Editorial Review

From School Library Journal

PreS-Gr 1—Rueben and Felix are next-door neighbors and best friends. They both love to blow bubbles but become quite competitive and cutthroat when they try to outdo each other in a bubble-blowing contest. Friendship triumphs over competition in the end. The illustrations are bright, cheerful, and colorful, but the fun interactive component—lift-the-flap bubbles—is almost as fragile and vulnerable as the real thing. The word choice is slightly advanced for the target audience, but the book would work as a read-aloud.

VERDICT A lively choice that needs to be kept aside for programming. Have plenty of bubble juice on hand!—Melissa Etheridge, Siegel Middle School, TN

Review

“Numerous lift-the-flap bubbles that conceal some of the text and illustrated details are a winning touch and should delight young aspiring readers.” ?Kirkus Reviews

“Hibernation, dedication and one long-distance friendship that will never be forgotten: a must-have when a friend moves away.” ?Kirkus Reviews on HERMAN'S LETTER

“Filled with amusing details, the dynamic artwork fuels the text with action and humor, and lift-the-flap letters add an appealing interactive element. This book proves that true friendship endures despite distance and duress.” ?School Library Journal on HERMAN'S LETTER

“Percival uses lift-the-flap letters to give concrete reality to the friends' correspondence, and his portrayal of Herman's vulnerability is touching and funny.” ?Publishers Weekly on HERMAN'S LETTER
